Tilden's Position. It cannot be denied that Governor TIL-DEN is "in a strait betwixt two" conflicting sections of the Democratic party. General McCLERNAND, of Illinois, boldly took the bull by the horns when he declared that TILDEN was nominated for President at a time when hard money had been almost banished from circulation by "vicious legislation ": but the address of Mr. HANNA. who in some degree represented Governor HENDRICKS, and the letter or written address of the notifying committee, make no mention of this disturbing subject. In fact, Governor Tilden himself said nothing on this point, in replying to the addresses which had been made to him. But he did remark that he did not desire on that occasion to "anticipate any topics which might be appropriate" to his letter of acceptance. If he had not made this remark, however, his well-known character would have been a sufficient guarantee that he would dodge no question and fail to meet no issue that may be involved in the election.

The St. Louis platform denounces one tion that he had yielded under protest to this feature of the platform. The trouble lature last year put themselves on the fecord as being opposed to the repeal of the resumption act, and Governor TILDEN approved of their resolution. The St. Louis platform denounces only one clause of the act of 1875. We have always regarded that act as an unwise and ill-considered measure. It has had no good effects, and can have none, in our opinion. It has tended to obstruct the channels of commerce and to paralyze trade and businot "to take any steps backward" on this speech concluded as follows: question-a promise which Governor HAYES reminds them of by quoting their words in platform upon which the St. Louis Convention placed him, or to profess to have changed his opinions on the question, he must feel tion." [Cheers.] some embarrassment in preparing his letter of acceptance. Besides all this, Governor HENDRICKS's wishes are to be taken into consideration. We had ourselves always included Governor HENDRICKS amongst the hard-money men of the country; and we know of no reason now for supposing that he is not one of them. Yet we cannot but perceive that the soft-money men in the West, and particularly in Ohio, are giving as a reason for their support of the ticket the statement that HENDRICKS suits them much better than TILDEN. had surrendered." Indeed, the Cincinnati Enquirer calls upon Governor TILDEN to treat the Democrats of Ohio and Indiana more tenderly than the St. Louis Convention treated them. These are indications that the Democrats of those two States at least look upon Governor HENDRICKS as a sympathizer in their theories on the money question; and we know from his last reported speech that he is in favor of the repeal of the resumption act. But as the St. Louis platform denounces that act as a "hindrance to resumption," whilst General Ewing and his Ohio friends oppose it rather because it attempts to provide for a return to specie payments than for any other reason, Governor HENDRICKS's real position cannot be inferred from anything that he has said since his nomination. If, however, we can safely infer his position from the facts hereinbefore recited, he will have to be set down as rather leaning to the side of what are called "the inflationists" of Ohio. But there is another point to be considered. Governor HAYES's letter of acceptance is claimed by his eastern supporters as placing him before the people as the champion of hard money and early re- between this city and Lynchburg. Chapsumption of specie payments. We thought his declarations upon these two points a ley, a gallant Union soldier, formerly emlittle obscure; but his eastern friends do not admit that such is the case. They scout bling of the Democratic House. Mosby the idea that there can be any doubt as to demanded that his ex-Confederate friend his opinions. Under these circumstances, Governor TILDEN will write his letter of acceptance. What position will be take as to the resumption act, as to hard money, and as to a speedy return to specie payments? As to the first, he might content himself with endorsing the declaration of the St. Louis platform, which denounces it only as "a hindrance to resumption." And this denunciation he might easily enough reconcile with the resolution passed by the New York Legislalature, seeing that that resolution was based upon the mistaken assumption that the act of 1875 would prove an aid to resumption instead of a hindrance. As to the second point-hard money-Governor TILDEN will doubtless declare as clearly and decidedly in its favor as he can. He knows that the vote of New York, as well as that of New Bristow, late Secretary of the Treasury, Jersey and that of Connecticut, will never be given to any man who fails to come up to the mark on this question. In fact, from all that we could learn at St. Louis, we could not but come to the conclusion that TILDEN would strengthen himself in every section of the country by the clearest possible declaration in favor of gold and silver as the only true basis of the currency. Not only the States we have just named, but Oregon, California, Nevada, Colorado, and Wisconsin-all being States which are claimed for TILDENare as strongly in favor of hard money as Massachusetts. Whether, however, these surmises be well founded or not, Governor TILDEN will almost certainly prepare a plank upon which the hardest of hard-money men can stand. He will allow nobody to remain in doubt as to his position. Whoever votes for him will vote for him knowing just what his views are upon this question. The third point-a speedy return to specie paymentsis involved in the second. If he is anxious to have a currency convertible at will into over the Orangemen's procession in Philagold and silver, he is desirous of having delphia Wednesday night, and cut one ansuch a currency as soon as possible. But he will put forth no radical theories on this point. His message to the New York Legislature last January shows that he is thoroughly familiar with the subject. He has tween $6,000 and $7,000. no faith in quack financial theories. He

Governor Hayes and the South. The Cincinnati Commercial, an Independnt journal, which has not yet stated whether it intends to support HAYES or TILDENand will not, we guess, until it has read TILDEN'S letter of acceptance—compliments HAYES'S letter, and vouches for his sincerity, as follows:

"It is not only true that that which he says of the South is extremely good, but surprise in the community, as no one, or at that it is his own, and reflects his sentiments and character. Our knowledge of Governor Hayes is so clear that we feel warranted in saying to the South that he has opened his heart to the people of that section, and that that the number of scholars attending there they should take him at his word; for it is is too small to justify the expense of more the word of a gentleman and a soldier-a than two teachers. The Board also adman who has seen war and who loves justice and peace."

"It is a statesmanlike document, ingeni ously prepared, and will doubtless receive high compliment from his party."

The Chicago Times, a Tilden paper, says "His letter will be a surprise to his supporters and a disappointment to his adversaries. Of the southern problem Hayes speaks with more moderation, earnestness. and reassurance than any public man of the party since Lincoln. SOME OF THE CAUSES THAT LEAD TO THE REMOVAL OF POSTMASTER-GENERAL JEWELL. The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune, after speaking of Senator Spencer's enmity to Jewell, says: Another of Postmaster-General Jewell's enemies is Senator Conkling, and the reason for his opposition has already been referred to. Special Agent Morton, who was removed on the 1st of July, was Mr. Conkling's appointee, and had been engaged exclusively in setting up conventions in Mr. Conkling's interest in Virginia. Colonel Mosby, of Virginia, who is one of the most influential men in General Grant's administration, is another of those who have disapproved of the manner in which Postmaster-General Jewell has managed his Department. One cause of his opposition was the removal of Captain Chapman, who served as a bushwhacker under Mosby during the rebellion, and who, on his recommendation was appointed to be route agent man was removed to make a place for Bradployed in the post-office of the House of Representatives, but displaced on the assem-Chapman should be replaced, but in

PETERSBURG. ELECTION OF A PRINCIPAL OF SCHOOLS-PER-SONAL ITEMS-THE LATE STORM-SEARCH FOR TREASURE-TROVE. [Correspondence of the Richmend Dispatch.]

JULY 13, 1876. At a meeting of the School Board held last evening Mr. R. E. Hardaway, late of Amelia county, who during the last session was principal of the High-School, was elected Principal of Schools over Major Fred. P. Leavenworth, who has held that position for the past two years. Eight members of the Board were present, and the vote stood five for Mr. Hardaway to three for Major Leavenworth. The election caused some least very few, had any idea that Major Leavenworth would fail of reelection.

The Board also decided to drop one of the teachers of the High-School, on the ground vanced the pay of the teachers in the primary department from $30 to $40 per month. Rev. T. T. Eaton and lady returned to the

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION TO BE HELD ON THE 16TH INSTEAD OF THE 23D OF AUGUST-DEATH OF CAPTAIN TOWNES-SUNDAY-SCHOOL EXCURSION-ANOTHER EDITORIAL CHANGE. [Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

JULY 12, 1876. Colonel Sims, of the Executive Commit tee of this congressional district, gives notice by letter of the 10th that the committee has changed the time for holding the congressional convention from the 23d of August to the 16th. The basis of representation will be one vote for every hundred Conservative votes cast in the last guberna-

the number of delegates which each county may send to cast its vote. Captain Stephen C. Townes died at his esidence, near Kentuck church, on the 10th instant. I am fully aware that I frequently report changes in the editorial department of our papers. Perhaps you have been ready to say, "Well, that is enough of a thing for a provincial town." But it may be important that I should announce that Captain Luck has withdrawn from the Border Express, and that from the first his engagement was only temporary. ALPHA.

Your correspondent finds that here, a almost everywhere, the nomination of Tilden and Hendricks is hailed with delight And why should it not be so, when amid all efforts to regain our lost position in the councils of the nation we have been met with hydra-headed radicalism and bloodyshirtism from those who adhere to the platform which said "let us have peace" and vet continued to make war.

Judge R. W. Hughes recently said Tilden is the only man that can make any fight with the opposite party, and no doubt he expresses the opinion of many of the most thoughtful men in his party. Thomas Tabb, presidential elector for this district, expresses decided satisfaction at the St. Louis nomination.

The case of Robert Banks (colored) charged with rape on a white girl at Newport News, was argued recently before Judge W. R. Willis, who overruled the apolication for a new trial, and, according to the finding of the jury, sentenced the-prisoner to be hung on the 18th of August next. He commended the prisoner to the mercy of God, and he left the court-room followed by the lamentations of his heartsick mother. The prisoner protests his in-nocence of the charge. It is understood his counsel will carry the case to the Court of Appeals.

Rev. J. William Jones, D. D., of Richmond, is announced to fill the pulpit of the Baptist church here next Sunday. PHIDIAS.

MPORTANT TO PARENTS AND GUARDIANS. MOUNT DE CHANTAL ACADEMY OF THE VISITATION, NEAR WHEELING, W. VA.

Parents in quest of a first-class school for their daughters will do well to investigate the chims of this celebrated Academy. For thoroughness in every department of female education MOUNT DE. CHANTAL ranks pre-eminently high. Great attention is given to perfect the pupils in writing and speaking French with fluency. For those sufficiently advanced it is the language of their recreation hours. The purity of accept and correctness of pronuncial advanced it is the language of their recreation hours. The purity of accent and correctness of pronunciation acquired in this institution have long been a subject of surprise to the native Parisian. The renown for the superiority in muste is so widespread as to have made this Academy almost a national one. One feature in particular that should recommend MOUNT DE CHANTAL to the sensible parent is the influence exercised to form the pupils to views and habits of economy, and to render them really practical and useful women of society in after years. Simplicity of dress is enforced by rule.

These facts, united to the exceedingly moderate rates of board and thition ($200 per annum), will, we trust, secure to this school as farge and desirable a patronage in the future as it has enjoyed in the past.
